Racial Demographics

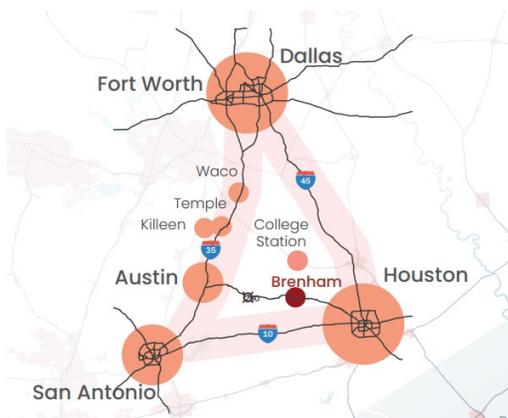

Brenham, Texas combines historic charm with modern comfort. Its tree-lined streets, restored architecture, and friendly community make it one of Central Texas's most inviting small towns. It also lies in the midst of the Texas Triangle or Texaplex, one of eleven mega-regions in the United States. The Texaplex holds the majority of Texas' population, population growth, and economy.

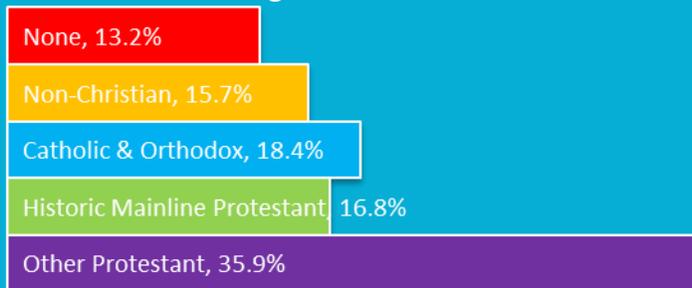

With just over half of the population choosing "protestant" as their religious preference, this area is in great need of the gospel.

Because we live, work, and worship within these communities, the people of the South Texas Presbytery and the Reach South Texas (RST) Church Planting Network are able to address the specific needs of newly planted churches in the area.

RST is committed to planting a church in Brenham that is soaked with Gospel life so that it embodies God's grace in worship, community and mission.
